

Imagine

Being a volunteer run community organisation or a small nfp and having access to affordable, high quality help and guidance to help build your organisation.

Welcome to Imagine – my process for helping small community organisations. I have been consulting to the nonprofit sector since 2002. I recognise that community organisations and small nonprofits have limited resources. As a result they are often unable to access high quality help when it is needed. I have create Imagine to help in those situations.
